(SUNNY fears bad men; and is reluctant to leave her tower of safety)

SUNNY
(fearful to PAULA) But mother... I've watched a lot of movies lately... some scary ones... and I tend to see bad men all the time in them... I don't want a bad man to come and attack me out of nowhere... that's going to scare me... I don't want to die out there in the BIG BAD WORLD...

(PAULA worries of her daughter's persistence and fear to stay indoors most of the time. PAULA speaks her concerns to her daughter SUNNY)

PAULA
(worried to SUNNY) Sunny... you just can't stay indoors all the time... you need to get out, get some fresh air, smell grass. Learn about nature... not all men are bad..

SUNNY

(PAULA notices her daughter's growing fears of men. She begins comforting her daughter)

PAULA
(comforts SUNNY) Sunny darling... there are good men and bad men. There are good women and bad women. There's good and bad in everyone... but you just can't hide from the world. You'll get cabin fever and extreme anxiety to leave the house...

PAULA
(worried to SUNNY) And it worries me
darling...

worries. SUNNY puts her hand on her mother's shoulder. SUNNY comforts PAULA)

okay... it's okay I'll get down somehow...

PAULA
(worried to SUNNY) Yeah... how SUNNY? How...

SUNNY (comforts PAULA) My hair... my hair pulled
you up... my hair can pull me down safely...
I promise..

(PAULA grows annoyed with her daughter's reckless hair caring)

PAULA
(upset to SUNNY) Sunny... you've got to look after that hair of yours... sometimes I hate it when you pull me up... it's like you're going to pull your hair roots out.... it worries the hell out of me...

SUNNY
(comforts PAULA) Mother.. it'll be fine... I promise... Like you said; it'll just be until you build a staircase up the tower..
it'll be fine...

PAULA
(worried to SUNNY) I don't know...

(comforts PAULA) Mother... it'll be fine...
I promise... I promise you heaps...

girl... (pauses) well okay... there's no
other way for me or you to get down... use your hair... (determined) And I assure you that staircase is coming...

you to let me down now...

SUNNY
(Smiles to PAULA) Okay Mother... let me help
you down...

and sound from above ground. SUNNY breathes)
