LOGLINE

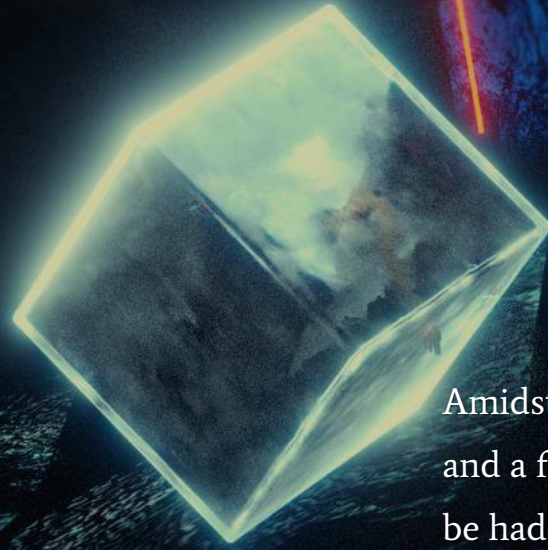

After losing a high-prize race to save his home, desperate Lee Andor discovers darkness within, one with the sole design to destroy an interstellar Empire, his powerful father, and vengeful brother. An ancient relic is sought after to redesign the Imperium, and lay waste to a burgeoning planet called Earth.

Alt. Logline: A Noble family Fk's up, and starts an experiment called, Earth.

SYNOPSIS

Age of Prophecy

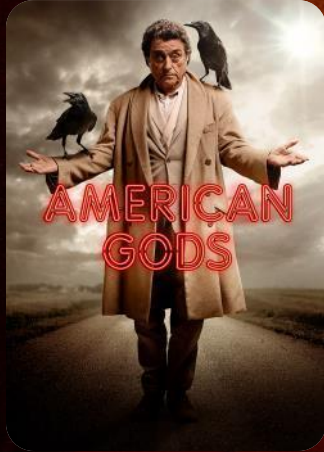

is a sci-fi/fantasy drama about a discarded orphan, who harbors a dark power designed to destroy an empire. Lee is one of two brothers forced into a destiny he is unaware of, and must protect a highly coveted relic sought after by sinister forces. Whosoever wields the illusive prize shall rule the Lyra constellation and beyond.

Amidst everything, a son longs for death, and a father seeks redemption. None will be had until they come to terms with the failings of the past. All will suffer if they don't.

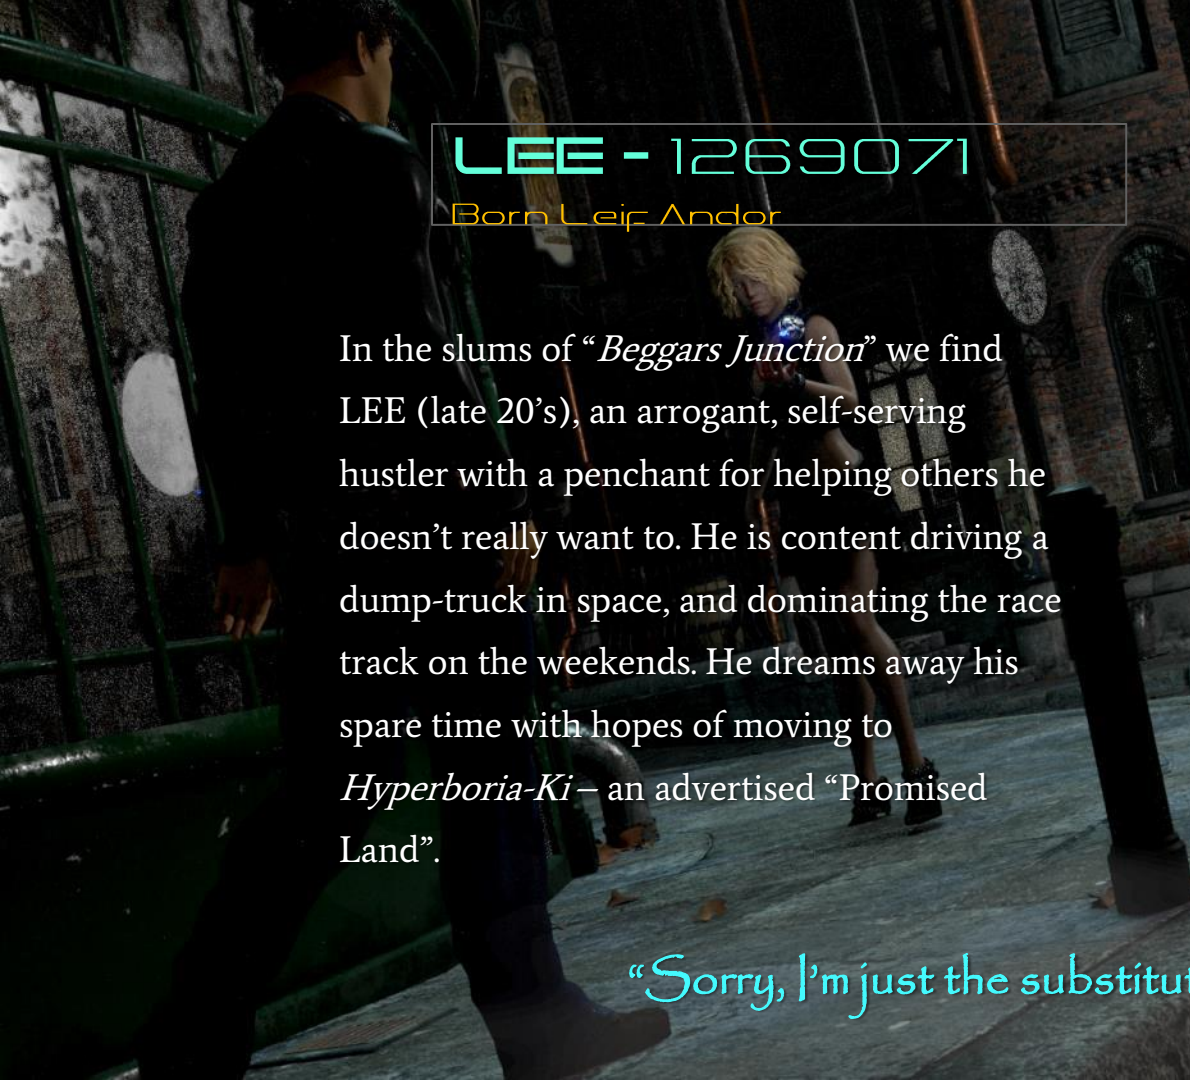

SHOW CROSS

MEETS

This is an epic in the vein of Showtime's "American gods" and Issac Asimov's "Foundation", & flavored with the grandeur of "Star Wars".

LEE - 1269071

Born Leif Andor

In the slums of “Beggars Junction” we find LEE (late 20’s), an arrogant, self-serving hustler with a penchant for helping others he doesn’t really want to. He is content driving a dump-truck in space, and dominating the race track on the weekends. He dreams away his spare time with hopes of moving to Hyperboria-Ki – an advertised “Promised Land”.

“Sorry, I’m just the substitute driver; deal with it.”

ALCREDES DELFER

Anuk Emperor of the Age of Expansion

“Fight a champion, you’ll be a fading star.
Fight a beast and you’re a legend.”

In his prime, ALCREDES was the Emperor of a hundred worlds – conqueror, philanderer; there wasn't a civilization, or maiden to refuse this war-monger. At the end of the age, Anuk tradition demanded he relinquish the throne to his heir. Unfortunately, his undeserving son, NIN-GAL, inherited the title. Since his unwilling descent into the history books, Alcredes has been absent from the spotlight. Many believe he wanders the empire without care or concern.

Arran Andor

Lord

Arrogant, ambitious, sinister...such were the parting words of Lord ARRAN ANDOR's father to him. As a High Lord & Warrior Priest of the empire, Arran was wed to the defeated Queen ZIRA-ENLIL-ZHOR, and "fathered" two sons with her – JAGAREN, and Lee.

His insatiable lust for power causes him to play both sides of a dangerous political coin. He wants to rule, and will use Jagaren's un-Godly power to achieve this.

"The humble man grew too familiar with the serpent, and eventually he forgot about the fangs."

Jagaren Andor

Jagaren av Valdar – “The Destroyer of Worlds”

Unlike his remarkably ordinary brother, Jagaren discovered his superhuman power at age five. He was promptly indoctrinated into the corrupt Priesthood by Lord Arran.

Jagaren worshipped his mother Zira, until five-year-old Lee caused her untimely death - or so it was reported.

He enjoys a high rank with the Warrior Priests, and has earned the handle - "The Beast" from bloody military campaigns.

Despite the pomp and celebration afforded him by Emperor Nin-Gal, he carries a tortured soul, and wishes for nothing more than the sweet embrace of death.

“Is that all I am to the Emperor, to you?
A tool for death, to destroy?”

70-53-02

Zira Enlil-Zhor

Queen of the Aladfar Consortium

Arrogant, quick to temper, her blood burns with the essence of the Prophets of Old. All she wants is to see her Utopian civilization play it's part in an age yet to unfold - the time when the Creator shall speak to humanity.

She keeps a sacred power hidden on her highly coveted outpost world of Hyperboria-ki (Earth), and will do anything to protect it.

Alpenestra Delfer

Anuk Ambassador in the Age of Expansion

He is the older brother to former Emperor Alcredes Delfer, and an eccentric scientist desperately wanting to course-correct humanity. It is easy to warm up to this kind grandfather, that is until he gets his claws into you.

“Alcredes been making bastards for a thousand years – he should fetch one.”

Thalia Astrid

High-born troublemaker

She is the vixen mamas warn their sons about. This is one gun toting cutie you don't want to mess with.

Highly intelligent with the arrogance to match. She keeps her circle small, and it happens to include Lee.

"There's something going on in that pretty head of yours."

Els'beth - 7210969

Member of the Ruhsuz guild – "The Soulless"

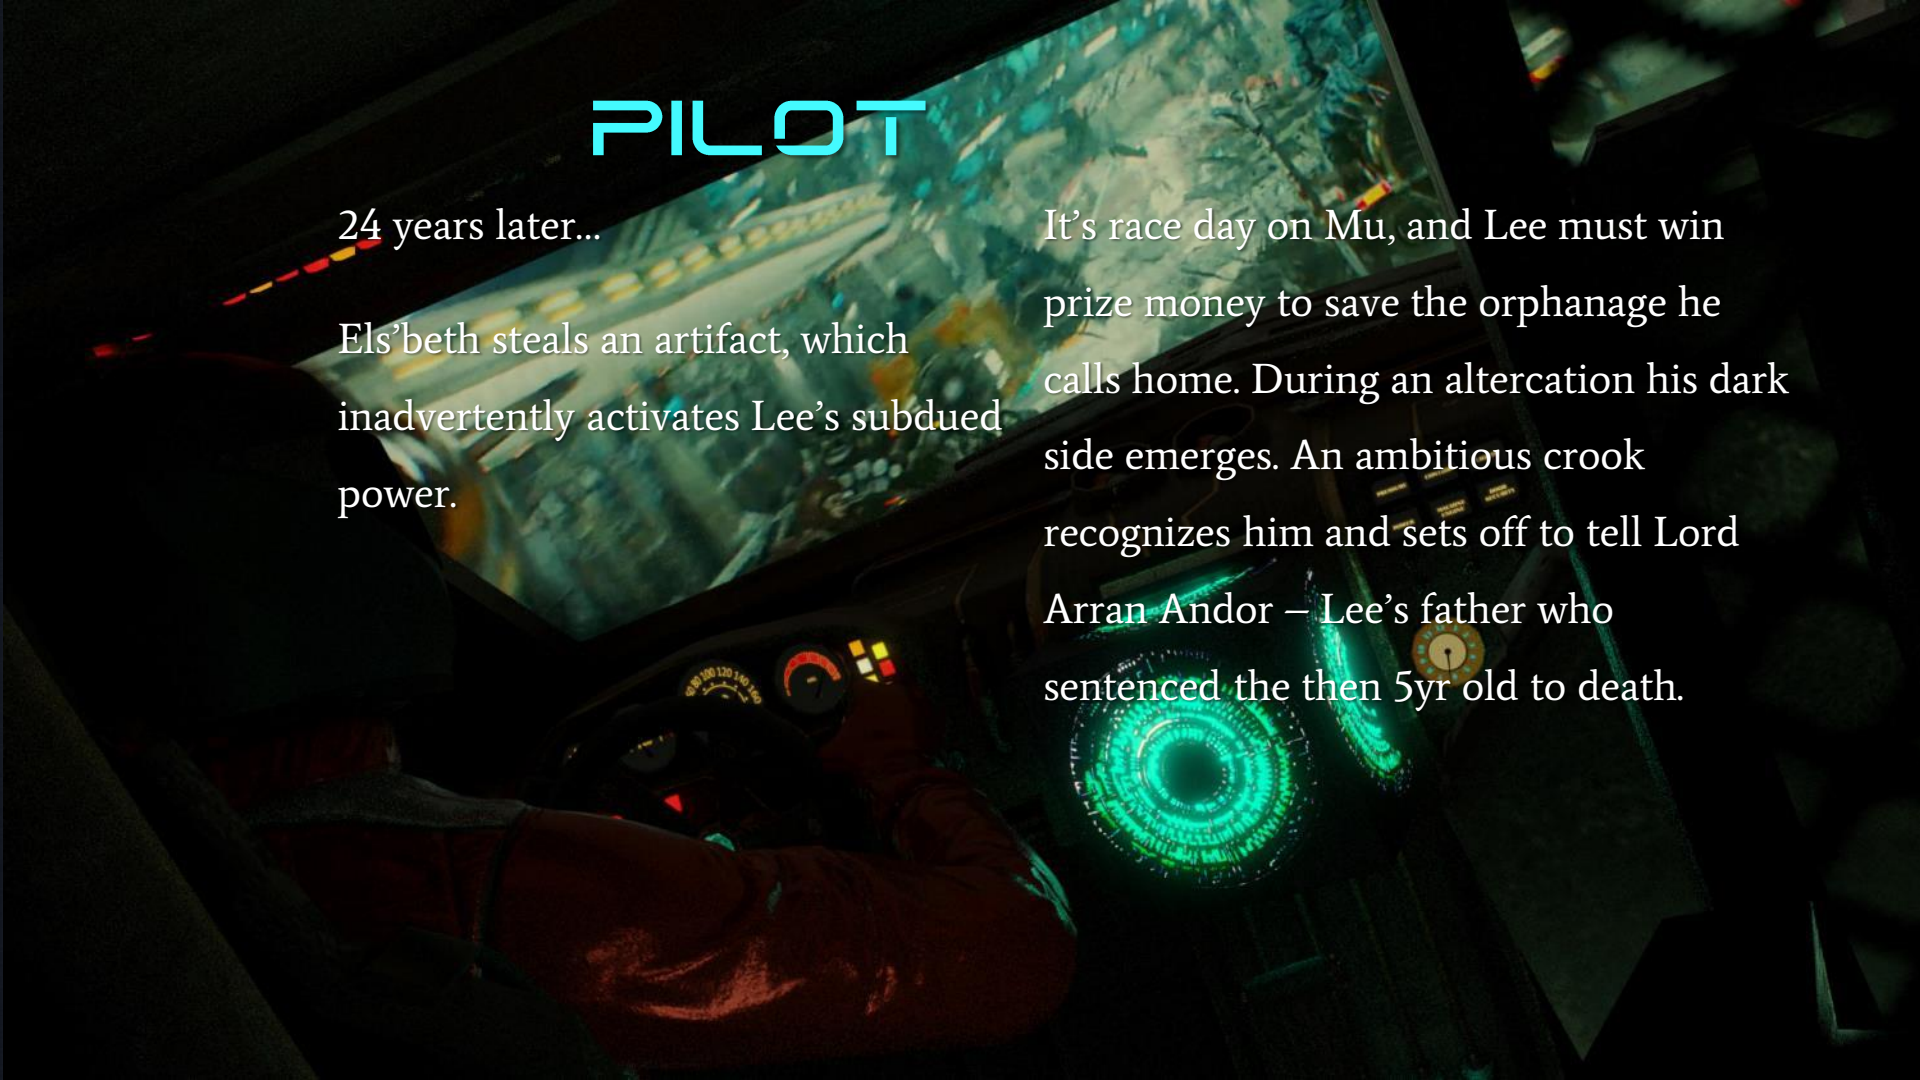

Tragedy drove ELS'BETH into the waiting arms of the Ruhsuz tribe - "The Soulless ones." Consumed by the fires of revenge, she employs her thieving skills towards their agenda, only as long as it serves her own. She grew up with Lee, and has a secret she hides from him.

PILOT

With enemy soldiers on her heels, Zira Enlil Zhor makes a last stand in the Temple of EL, only to succumb to her husband's blade. She leaves behind secrets to enormous power, and two sons who are key to unlocking them.

PILOT

24 years later...

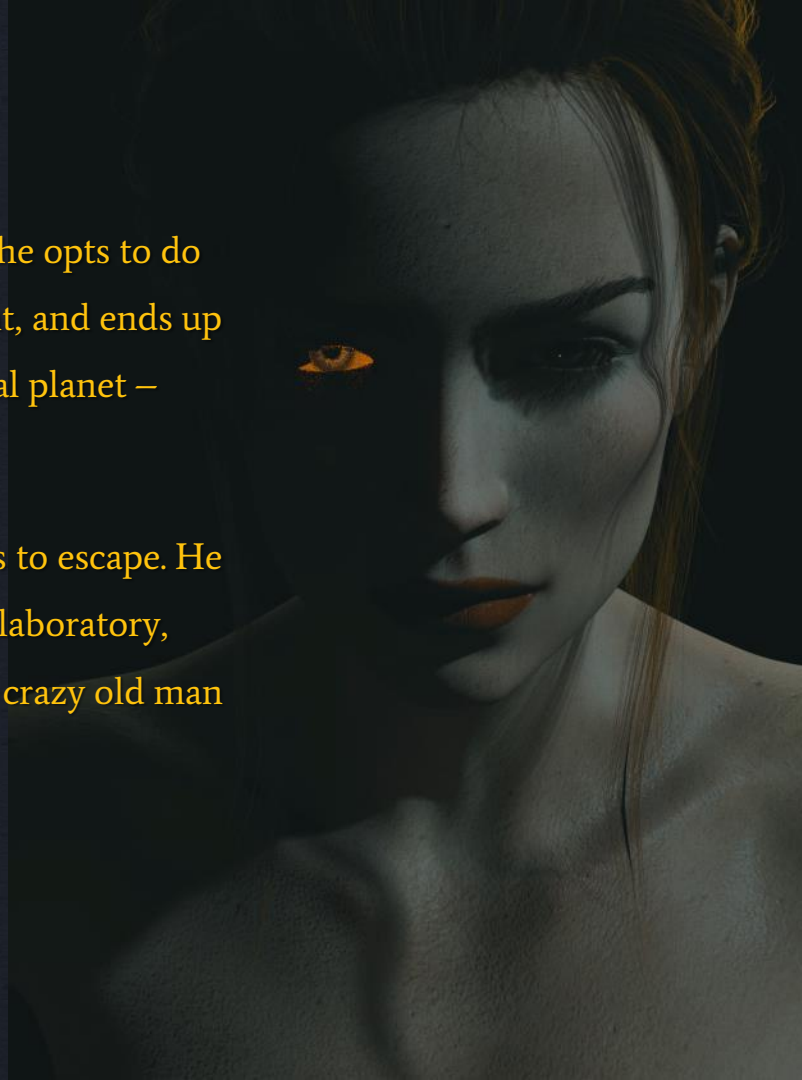

Elsbeth steals an artifact, which inadvertently activates Lee's subdued power.

It's race day on Mu, and Lee must win prize money to save the orphanage he calls home. During an altercation his dark side emerges. An ambitious crook recognizes him and sets off to tell Lord Arran Andor – Lee's father who sentenced the then 5yr old to death.

PILOT

Lee is fired from his day job, so he opts to do something illegal. He gets caught, and ends up on Stravos island - on the Capital planet – Vega-Prime.

With Thalia's help, Lee attempts to escape. He stumbles into Lord Alfenestra's laboratory, and gets conned into taking the crazy old man with him.

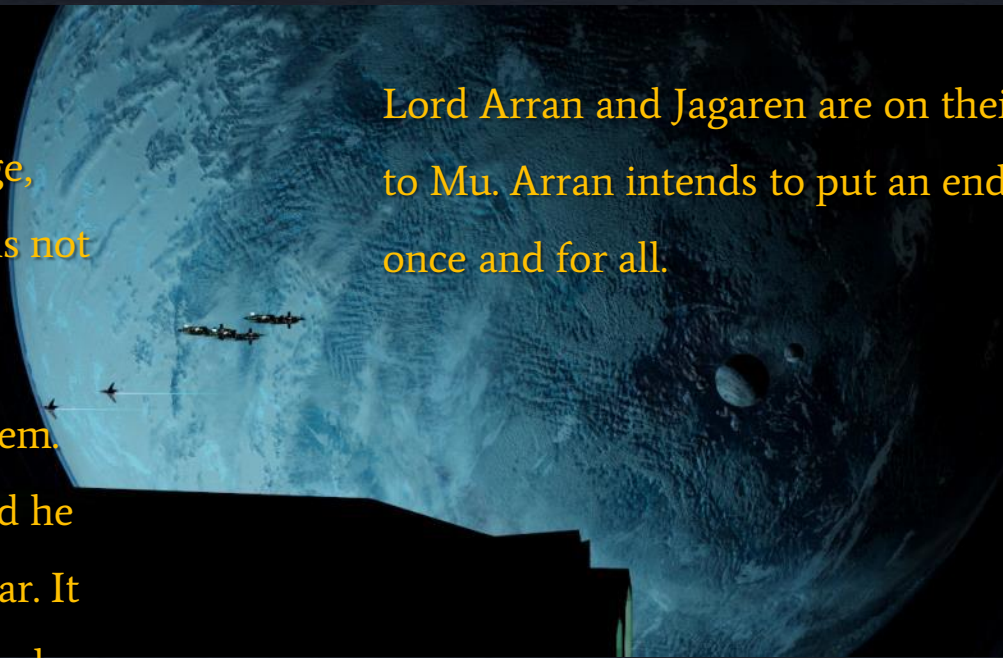

PILOT

Stravos island is on high alert. Lord Alfenestra tells Lee about his heritage, and the path he must take, but, this is not something Lee is prepared to do.

Guards attack, and Lee massacres them. The ordeal sends him into shock, and he wants nothing more than to disappear. It quickly dawns on him that his adopted family is in danger. He must get home.

Lord Arran and Jagaren are on their way to Mu. Arran intends to put an end to Lee once and for all.

EPISODE CONCEPTS

EPISODE 1: Lee gets a terrifying “wake-up call” about his role in destiny when he and his crew try to steal their way into a crucial race to save their home.

EPISODE 2: An ally emerges who sidelines Thalia, and sets Lee straight. A course is set for Hyperboria-ki, but Lee learns of Arran’s trap on Mu, and slips away with Els’beth’s help.

EPISODE 3 Traps are set by both sides, and Lee suffers devastating consequences, but, he wrestles away Arran’s true source of power. Despite this, a blow to Lee’s soul sends him reeling. Emperor Nin-Gall invades Hyperboria-Ki. Els’beth brings hope, which ignites Thalia’s jealousy.

EPISODE 4: A fragmented flashback episode reveals EVERYONE’s past, and brings them into context with the now.

EPISODE 5: On Hyperboria-Ki, Queen Zira’s secret temple is breached, and Nin-Gal and his enemies battle to the death. The true nature of a dark force is understood, and harnessed.

EPISODE 6: Sacrifices are made, and plans for Hyperboria-ki’s future is set in stone.
